The Secret Child of Emperor Franz Josef

London, Feb. 13.—The remarkable claim that she is the secret child of Emperor Franz Josef and the late Empress Sophie, the Empress of Austria, by the Countess Zanardi Landi, now living in London, and who will shortly publish her story, has been denied. She says that the most convincing proof of her claim is in the resemblance of her child to the resemblance of her late Empress, to Emperor Franz Josef, and to the mad King of Bavaria, who was the Emperor's son.

The countess' story is that the Emperor promised the princess that her next child should be given to her as to live free from the restrictions of court etiquette, which was the Emperor's chief objection to the marriage. The birth took place at the Chateau de Senezeau, in Normandy, where the Emperor had a hunting lodge. The countess found that he could do much for them, by giving them useful information and direction, and to become disengaged from his wife, who was in a socialistic agitation.

The following is an account of the countess' story in her own words: "Anno 1871." Afterward the Empress, when calling about her son, visited her as "Aunt Elly." Afterward the Empress provided a separate establishment for the countess, and where "Aunt Elly" told the child she was her mother.

Later, when through a servant's gossip, she learned that her mother was the Austrian Empress.

After the Emperor's tragic death, the Countess married Richard Kuhnen, a cavalry officer, who spent large sums while she was his wife, and probably had much money. Yet then, his wife in America, finally deserted him, and he died in poverty.

Against Plural Voting.

The resolution was introduced by J. Carbeck, of the Bricklayers and Masons Union, affirmed that "that the city, as it stands, is not a suitable place for the city, as it tends towards the suppression of democratic legislation by class legislation, that property of the large, large, large, who only occasionally visit the city are enabled by combination to defeat the wills of the great mass of the voters and that tenant voters of this community are in a small part of the total vote represented in the city."

It was decided to bring the matter to the attention of the Edmonton franchise, and to make a representation to the Provincial Government of Alberta, to so amend the franchise that it would be illegal that plural voting shall be illegal.

Franchise Again.

Before the adoption of the resolution pertaining to the rights of tenants to the franchise, there was a general discussion of the rights of the Adantic. ## STORMY SCENE IN LEGISLATURE WHEN MARSHALL AND TWEDIE COME TOGETHER leader until he resigned and then Mr. Sifton became my leader.

Hon. Mr. H. B. Marshall: If it was permitted by the rules of the house that a member could impeach himself, I would do it. I am not a member of the house in taking the stand he did.

Mr. Twedie: You were negotiating for the A. & G. W. solicitorship, and you were disappointed that you were not taken into the cabinet at this particular time. Mr. Marshall was taken in.

Premier Sifton: That is not so.

The honorable member knows that we must address the speaker.

Is Not Satisfied.

Mr. Twedie: I have said that there was no definite information on the table of the house as to the outcome of the bill. The premier had stated that he had decided to make good his promises. He saw no evidence of a compromise in the decision, and if the premier had any reason on the grounds of the decision then he regretted that the affairs of the province were in the hands of a man who did not know more of the arguments than had been placed before the Privy Council. I hope that he will understand that it was the decision of the government to have made some arrangement with the A. & G. W. in order that it would have been possible for the government to have made some arrangement with the A. & G. W. or to have gone ahead and built the road and we have legal title with the bonds.

Mr. Twedie: I hope that he will understand that the legislation was passed in consequence of which the province was compelled to interest a sum of $150,000 in the A. & G. W. for the construction of the railway.

At this stage Mr. Twedie said that if the debate would be adjourned, as he had been told, Mr. Marshall after a short consultation the premier stated that he was agreeable to the adjournment which Mr. Twedie then made.

Dr. Stewart, Lethbridge.

Dr. Stewart, on reading the debate in the afternoon, expressed the pleasure that it had given in the city of Lethbridge, to welcome His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught on the occasion of his visit there. The city of Lethbridge, he said, fired the only royal salute given between Winnipeg and Ottawa in honour of the prince. After listening to speeches from members of government he said that he had been transported to the house at Ottawa instead of being in the legislature of Alberta.

Hon. Charles Stewart: Does the honorable gentleman deny that the railway was recently completed at Ottawa?

Hon. J. R. Boyle: Would the honorable member from Okotoks in the north be so good as to inform the railway commission concerning the railway commission?

Mr. Twedie: I have been informed that the railway commission was controlled by the government.

Hon. Charles Stewart: Does the honorable gentleman deny that the railway commission was controlled by the government?

Hon. J. R. Boyle: Would the honorable member from Okotoks in the north be so good as to inform the railway commission?

Mr. Twedie: I became angry when attention was called to the fact that he was not making a speech, but in reality said nothing but a few words.

Hon. J. R. Boyle: I am not going to continue my speech, but I will be so good as to let you know when I can get the information I want.

Mr. Twedie: I still hold the floor when the house adjourned till evening.

At the resumption of the house for session on Tuesday, Mr. Boyle spoke at some length on the natural resources. He was in favor of those being handed over to the government, and he seemed to be in early man who was disappointed that Mr. Bentley was not present.

Wain Land Titles Office.

Dr. Stewart presented a petition from Lethbridge Board of Trade in support of the demand for land titles office in the southern part of the province, and spoke of the desire of the people to have their business through the nearest land titles office.

The speaker charged the government with neglecting the enforcement of the Noxious Weeds Act in Lethbridge district that were bothered with weeds and that it was possible west and west was that one quarter section of weedy land might corrupt thousands of acres of arable land.

If $20,000 was not sufficient for the enforcement of the act, then more money should be provided. He read letters protesting against the weedy land, which showed the government the need of legislation, and he asked that some such legislation be introduced so that they might be made proper.

Dr. Stewart, in the speech of the speaker of the house, said that the members of municipalities had deposited the statement that the members of the opposition had injured the school system, and that the best teachers would not go to the towns in those areas where they could not get the same compensation as in the large cities. Similarly, the agricultural colleges. These should be placed, he said, where they could be approached, coming in with normal schools and with the universities.

An Enclosure.

Turning to the railway policy, he said whatever other districts had to say, the fact is that the railway had to be built with what had been done. Not a mile of railway construction had been done under government guarantee.

Premier Sifton took issue with the speaker, stating that a considerable number of miles of railway had been constructed south of Calgary.

Dr. Stewart said it might be true that the construction of the railway had to be completed by the Canadian Pacific, but whenever there was an election in Caledon or Pincher Creek constituency, the speaker was with the Canadian Pacific.

The G. T. P. line from Edmonton through Calgary to Lethbridge, he said, had been graded for years and today the G. T. P. themselves were dissatisfied.

CHEAP MONEY PROPOSED.

H. T. Twedie, Leader spoke next on the government's side.

Mr. Twedie: My object is to incite the members of the house to a vote of confidence in the government.

Mr. Twedie: The government was attempting to give power, though they put forward no method, to show how enough money could be obtained.

Mr. Twedie: I believe that the only remedy at this time was a co-operative scheme linking the government and the people.

Mr. Twedie: We have given money to farmers on long terms on the basis of land and security. Replied to the speaker: We are not addressing the manner in which timber lands had been handled by the government.

Mr. Twedie: The government had
